PUBLIC SALE

OF THE

Washington and Ohio R. R.

Under authority of a decree of the Circuit Court of Alexandria, Va., rendered April 25, 1880, in the suit of Henry Lewis et al. vs. the R. & O. R. R. Company et al., and affirmed by the Court of Appeals of Virginia at its September term, 1881, the undersigned special Commissioners, will, at 12 o'clock m., on the 16th day of May, 1882,

at the railroad depot of the Washington and Ohio Railroad Company, in the city of Alexandria, Va., OFFER FOR PUBLIC AUCTION THE including that part and that wholly constructed, and also all and singular all the works and property, real, personal and mixed, rolling stock, locomotives, cars, &c., and all rights, contracts and franchises of said Washington and Ohio Railroad Company.

The said property consists of a constructed line of railway in active operation from the city of Alexandria, Va., westward through the counties of Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudoun to Round Hill station, in Loudoun county, a distance of 51 1/2 miles, including a line connecting with the Washington and Alexandria Railroad. The road is also graded beyond Round Hill for a distance of three miles.

The other real property of the company consists of a large brick depot building and freight house in the city of Alexandria, a round house, machine shop, car shop, car shed, store house, &c., and about fifteen acres of land adjacent thereto; also eleven depot houses and lots at the eleven principal stations between Alexandria and Round Hill.

According to the route surveyed the distance from Washington to Point Pleasant, on the Ohio river, is three hundred and twenty-five miles, and passes through a country heavily timbered and of great mineral resources.

Terms: The entire property, real, personal and mixed, franchises, &c., is sold together, and for the same the purchaser must pay fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of the purchase money in cash, and the residue in four equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, which said payments are to be evidenced by bonds which are to be secured by a deed of trust upon the property sold, to be executed upon the confirmation of the sale and conveyance to the purchaser.

This sale is subject to the lien of the deed of trust executed August 6th, 1878, to indemnify the county of Clarke, State of Virginia, against liability for the annual interest on the bonds of the said county for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) "up to and until the time when said road shall be commenced, and under construction in said county of Clarke;" and against the payments of the principal of said bonds as they shall become due and payable before the road shall be commenced and under construction in said county, the said bonds falling due in the year 1892.

The purchaser will be entitled to the net profits of the road from the day of the sale.

The Autocrat of the Family.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat prints the long complaint in the suit of Mrs. Alice Davenport for a divorce from her husband, Benjamin R. Davenport, of that city. The parties are natives of Georgia, but were married in New York city September 24, 1878. The wife asserts that two weeks after their marriage her husband, without cause, began to treat her with suspicion and mistrust, and to assume toward her a cruel and tyrannical attitude, declaring that she should subject herself in all things, even to the most minute and trivial affairs, entirely to his arbitrary dictation, direction and command; that he forbade her to ever to speak to any gentleman, and that, she being ill, he refused her permission to go to her mother, in Savannah, Ga., and finally only consented to her visiting her mother in New York after she had taken an oath faithfully to observe certain rules which, a gross indignity to herself, he had written out as follows:

Rules for the government of my wife's conduct while away from me, June 1879:

1. Not to speak to any person or allow any person to speak to her or the car, except the conductor and porter in the discharge of their duty.

2. Go directly from the depot in New York to Mrs. Haight's house, and occupy room with mother, and sleep only in her room.

3. Speak kindly and politely to Mrs. Haight, but not in a friendly or familiar manner; say to her you do not wish to meet any one in the house; ask for a table to yourself, with only your family, or go somewhere else.

4. Never sit in the parlor or sit in the parlor, or sing in your room when any person except your immediate family be present.

5. Never leave more than five minutes at a time for any reason whatsoever. Do not walk, ride or go anywhere without her, even with your own brother.

6. Do not call on any person whatsoever, and allow no one who may call on you to see you, unless they be your brothers or their wives. Do not speak to any person you may meet whom you may have known in the past.

7. Do not permit yourself to be introduced to any person whatsoever, and if you are, refuse to speak to them.

8. Write every night to me a full, truthful and exact account of everything you have done, where you have been, with whom you have been, to whom you have spoken, and whom you have seen. This must be done every night.

Let nothing, sickness or death, prevent your keeping these rules, for I will execute no breach on any account. Do not leave New York, even for a hour, without my permission, except Brooklyn or Harlem.

If my wife cannot keep these rules, in word and in spirit, I desire never to see her again.

BENJAMIN R. DAVENPORT.

The Globe-Democrat says: "Mr. Davenport came to this city in 1878, and at once gained considerable prominence in the practice of his profession. He has the management of several large estates, and is in receipt of quite a respectable income. He is a genial, sociable gentleman, and has always been regarded as above reproach. Mr. Davenport entered his appearance, thus obviating the issuance of a process, and instead of being returnable to the June term it is returnable to the present (April) term. It is understood that Mr. Davenport will not contest the case, but will allow Mrs. Davenport to get a decree by default."

PALESTINE EXPLORATION.—Full particulars of the recent discoveries made by Capt. Conder on the east of the Jordan are published in the quarterly statement of the Palestine Exploration Society. Capt. Conder has found four great centres, the first of which he identifies with Baal Peor, the third with "the top of Baal Peor, which looketh toward Jesheno," and the fourth with the "Sanctuary of Baal Peor," in the Jordan valley; where the Israelites worshipped while in Shittim. The monuments, which still stand as they stood in the days of Balak illustrate the religion of the people whom the Israelites were to dispossess; and with this knowledge to help him, he has stood upon Pisgah and seen, like Balak, only a part of the Israelite encampments; upon Baal Peor, and also seen only a part; upon Baal Peor, and seen how Balak would have seen them all—"Israel abiding in his tents, according to their tribes." He has also discovered many ancient rock-cut tombs, presumably those of the ancient Ammonites. He has explored the tunnel of Siloam, and discovered the place where the workmen met, and he has obtained a cast and made a reading of the now famous Phoenician inscription which is supposed to belong to the time of Hezekiah.
